The child protection co-ordinators will conduct an annual review of the child protection policy and how it is being implemented. This is on behalf of MRC as a CIO. We are keeping up to date with national guidance and guidelines from 31:8.

Good practice for working with Children

This policy draws heavily upon the Safe & Secure document drawn up by CCPAS to help churches identify and practice healthy working relationships with Children. They identify key areas of good working practice and state that every church worker should understand what child abuse is and what the possible signs of it are, as well as knowing how to respond appropriately and safely to allegations.

This is why we have included this more informative section on definitions of abuse and signs of abuse, as well as a discipline policy in our child protection policy.

1. Definitions of Abuse

(The following definitions of child abuse are as stated in the joint government departments' document, 'Working Together to Safeguard Children' 2018.)

a) Physical abuse

Physical abuse may involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning, suffocating, or otherwise causing physical harm to a child.

Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms of, or deliberately induces illness in a child.

b) Sexual abuse

Sexual abuse involves forcing or enticing a child or young person to take part in sexual activities, including prostitution, whether or not the child is aware of what is happening.

The activities may involve physical contact, including penetrative (e.g. rape, buggery or oral sex) or non-penetrative acts.

They may include non-contact activities, such as involving children in looking at, or in the production of, pornographic material or watching sexual activities, or encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways.

c) Neglect

Neglect is the persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of the child's health or development.

Neglect may occur during pregnancy as a result of maternal substance abuse. Once a child is born, neglect may involve a parent or carer failing to provide adequate food and clothing, shelter including exclusion from home or abandonment, failing to protect a child from physical and emotional harm or danger, failure to ensure adequate supervision including the use of inadequate care-takers, or the failure to ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment.

It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs.

d) Emotional abuse

Emotional abuse is the persistent emotional maltreatment of a child such as to cause severe and persistent adverse effects on the child's emotional development.

It may involve conveying to children that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate, or valued only insofar as they meet the needs of another person.

It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond the child's developmental capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction.

It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another.

It may involve serious bullying causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children.

Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of maltreatment of a child, though it may occur alone.

2. Signs of possible abuse

Signs Suggesting Physical Abuse

- Any injuries not consistent with the explanation given for them
- Injuries that occur to the body in places which are not normally exposed to falls, rough games, etc
- Injuries that have not received medical attention
- Neglect - under nourishment, failure to grow, constant hunger, stealing or gorging food, untreated illnesses, inadequate care, etc
- Reluctance to change for, or participate in, games or swimming

- Cuts/scratches/substance abuse

- Nervousness, frozen watchfulness
- Obsessions or phobias
- Sudden under-achievement or lack of concentration

- f) Ensure that any information told to you by a child is kept confidential and only communicated to the Child Protection Co-ordinator(s).
- g) The Oxfordshire MASH team will refer your disclosure to the School the child or young person attends

What to do if you suspect abuse

- a) If a child behaves in a manner that leads you to suspect he or she is the victim of abuse, allow the child to explain their behaviour unaided, if possible.
- b) Try to react calmly to any inappropriate behaviour or any witnessed abuse.
- c) Make notes of any inappropriate behaviour or witnessed abuse as soon as possible.
- d) If you suspect, based upon inappropriate behaviour, that a child is a victim of abuse, inform the Child Protection Co-ordinator(s) as soon as possible, passing on any written record.

After any allegations of abuse, witnessed abuse or suspected abuse the Child Protection Co-ordinator will keep a written record. If appropriate, the Local Authority Multiagency Safeguarding Hub (MASH) will be contacted. Advice will also be sought from 31:8.

If you believe that a child is in immediate danger inform the Child Protection Co-ordinator(s) immediately, passing on any written record. If it is not possible to speak to them that day please contact the police directly.

Discipline Policy

This policy seeks to preserve a happy, safe and helpful learning for all members. The church seeks to be a loving and grace filled community and it is vital that all children attending the church have the opportunity to experience this.

Junior Church

1. We expect good standards of behaviour at all times which are governed by the following principles:
 - all members of Junior Church must show respect for all others. This includes both adults and children.
 - There must be no hurting of any other persons. This includes hitting, throwing objects at others, wresting or verbal taunts.
 - All members of Junior Church must respect the purpose of the meeting and co-operate with its leaders. The purpose of Junior Church is to worship God and to learn about him.
2. Standards of behaviour will be enforced by the leaders of Junior Church in the following ways:
 - Bad behaviour will result in a warning. Some groups may operate a red/yellow card policy.
 - Anyone who receives three warnings in a morning will automatically be asked to leave Junior Church for the rest of that morning. If their parent or guardian is in the building they will be taken to them. If not they will be asked to sit with a responsible adult for the remainder of the morning or taken home.
 - In cases of particularly bad behaviour a member maybe removed without warning, and/or suspended for a number of weeks.

Youth groups

1. All members of youth groups must show respect for all others. This includes both fellow members and youth leaders.
 - Anti-social or offensive behaviour will not be tolerated. This includes:
 - Hurting other people, e.g. hitting, throwing objects, fouling during games.
 - Aggressive behaviour or bullying e.g. Name calling, mocking other members.
 - Unwillingness to respect the purpose of the group or trying to deliberately stop others doing so.
2. Standards of behaviour will be enforced by the Youth Leaders in the following ways:
 - Bad behaviour will result in a warning. Some groups may operate a red/yellow card policy.
 - Anyone who receives three warnings in a session will automatically be asked to leave the group for the rest of that session. If their parent or guardian is in the building they will be taken to them. If not they will be asked to sit with a responsible adult for the remainder of the time or taken home.
 - In cases of particularly bad behaviour a member maybe removed without warning, and/or suspended for a number of weeks.

Guidelines for the behaviour of adult workers

- a) All workers are required to ensure that they do not behave in any way, physically or verbally that could be offensive to any child or adult.
- b) All workers must treat all children and young people with dignity and respect. This includes respecting personal privacy.
- c) All workers are to ensure that all interactions between themselves and any child should be such as to ensure that no reasonable person observing that interaction could construe its nature as abusive.
- d) Guidelines on touch:
 - Keep everything public.
 - Touch should be related to the needs of the child and not to the needs of the adult worker
 - Touch should be age appropriate and initiated by the child, not the adult worker.
 - All activity that is or could be construed to be sexually stimulating to the child or the adult worker is to be avoided.
 - Children have the right to decide on the degree and amount of physical contact they have with others, except with regard to necessary medical treatment.
 - Each adult worker is responsible for monitoring the conduct of others. If a worker has any concerns regarding the conduct of another worker, (s)he should report this to the Child Protection Co-Coordinator(s).

All workers should recognise that their position places them in a position of trust with regard to the children attending Junior Church, mid-week clubs and Holiday clubs. Each worker is to ensure that they do not abuse this position of trust and that they uphold this position of trust at all times.

It is vital that all those working with children in Magdalen Road Church have read this policy and take personal responsibility for seeing it implemented in the church.

Please sign this form annually and return it to the child protection co-ordinator(s).

I confirm that I have read and understood this child protection policy and will do my best to see it implemented within church.
