

Questions for Homegroups

Hebrews 3-4

The writer of Hebrews quotes at length from Psalm 95 in these chapters, which in turn is a reflection on events recorded in Numbers 13-14.

Suggestion – read over Numbers 13-14

- What do we learn about the promised land of Canaan here?
- Why did the Israelites refuse to enter the land?
- Why did the LORD become so angry with them?

Go back to Hebrews 3-4

- How is the situation the original hearers of this letter find themselves in similar to that of the Israelites on the border of Canaan?
- How can they guard against falling in the same ways as the Israelites?

Look at 3:12-14

- How practically do you think we can encourage one another more:
 - As a church?
 - As a homegroup?
 - In our families and friendships?

Questions for Homegroups

Hebrews 3-4

The writer of Hebrews quotes at length from Psalm 95 in these chapters, which in turn is a reflection on events recorded in Numbers 13-14.

Suggestion – read over Numbers 13-14

- What do we learn about the promised land of Canaan here?
- Why did the Israelites refuse to enter the land?
- Why did the LORD become so angry with them?

Go back to Hebrews 3-4

- How is the situation the original hearers of this letter find themselves in similar to that of the Israelites on the border of Canaan?
- How can they guard against falling in the same ways as the Israelites?

Look at 3:12-14

- How practically do you think we can encourage one another more:
 - As a church?
 - As a homegroup?
 - In our families and friendships?

Questions for Homegroups

Hebrews 3-4

The writer of Hebrews quotes at length from Psalm 95 in these chapters, which in turn is a reflection on events recorded in Numbers 13-14.

Suggestion – read over Numbers 13-14

- What do we learn about the promised land of Canaan here?
- Why did the Israelites refuse to enter the land?
- Why did the LORD become so angry with them?

Go back to Hebrews 3-4

- How is the situation the original hearers of this letter find themselves in similar to that of the Israelites on the border of Canaan?
- How can they guard against falling in the same ways as the Israelites?

Look at 3:12-14

- How practically do you think we can encourage one another more:
 - As a church?
 - As a homegroup?
 - In our families and friendships?