

Questions for Homegroups

1 Peter 2:18-3:12

- What are the key words used to describe a slave's attitude towards work? How does this affect our view of work?
- What does Jesus have to do with our attitude to the workplace?
- What specific challenges do you have at work which this passage might help you with?
- In what ways are the duties of wives and husbands in marriage described differently? Why? Do you think that following this advice will always produce better marriages? What are the challenges?
- What are the central duties of church members in 3:8-9?
- We are entering a period in which we are engaged in an unprecedented number of gospel-focused initiatives including our growing international student outreach, more conscious discipleship of students, the central Cowley plant, and the central plant and more! What does 1 Peter 3:8-9 have to say to us as we navigate this challenging period?

Questions for Homegroups

1 Peter 2:18-3:12

- What are the key words used to describe a slave's attitude towards work? How does this affect our view of work?
- What does Jesus have to do with our attitude to the workplace?
- What specific challenges do you have at work which this passage might help you with?
- In what ways are the duties of wives and husbands in marriage described differently? Why? Do you think that following this advice will always produce better marriages? What are the challenges?
- What are the central duties of church members in 3:8-9?
- We are entering a period in which we are engaged in an unprecedented number of gospel-focused initiatives including our growing international student outreach, more conscious discipleship of students, the central Cowley plant, and the central plant and more! What does 1 Peter 3:8-9 have to say to us as we navigate this challenging period?

Questions for Homegroups

1 Peter 2:18-3:12

- What are the key words used to describe a slave's attitude towards work? How does this affect our view of work?
- What does Jesus have to do with our attitude to the workplace?
- What specific challenges do you have at work which this passage might help you with?
- In what ways are the duties of wives and husbands in marriage described differently? Why? Do you think that following this advice will always produce better marriages? What are the challenges?
- What are the central duties of church members in 3:8-9?
- We are entering a period in which we are engaged in an unprecedented number of gospel-focused initiatives including our growing international student outreach, more conscious discipleship of students, the central Cowley plant, and the central plant and more! What does 1 Peter 3:8-9 have to say to us as we navigate this challenging period?